Antti Oulasvirta, Professor, Aalto University

An age-old problem in VR and AR: Input

Abstract:

Why has AR/VR taken so long to break through? Biomechanical and neuromechanic issues related to input are much more severe than commonly realized, and form an upper bound to user performance achievable with standard methods. This pitch discusses these issues from a new neuromechanic perspective and outlines a few improvement ideas from literature.